DETAILED ACTION

Applicant is advised that the use claim (22) is interpretable as a product and a method of manufacture as well as a method for use, and for the purposes of restriction, it will be interpreted as being any one of these three types of claims.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I: claim(s) 1-22, drawn to a method of increasing the anti-tumor activity of an inhibitor of histone deacetylase(s) (HDAC).

Group II: claim(s) 22 is drawn to the manufacture of a chemotherapeutic preparation for increasing the anti-tumor activity.

Group II: claim(s) 22 is drawn to a product of a chemotherapeutic preparation.

The inventions listed in Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature for the following reasons: the common technical feature in all groups is an oxyalkylene containing HDAC inhibitor. This element cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because the element is shown in the prior art. Patnaik et al., disclose the use of pivaloyloxymethyl butyrate in a phase I clinical study for patient with advanced solid malignancies.

Species Election

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species A: oxyalkylene containing HDAC inhibitors as claimed by formulas (I), (II), and (III)

Species B: a chemotherapeutic agent, where said agent is a member of the class consisting of tubulin interactors, DNA-interactive agents, DNA-alkylating agents, and platinum complexes.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single disclosed species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Should applicant elect either of Groups I or II, applicant is to elect a Species A and a Species B; for example, where applicant elects a Species A applicant is to define each and every variable of formulas I, II, or III, or elect a specific compound such as pivaloyloxymethyl butyrate (claim 3), where applicant elects a Species B, applicant is to elect a single class and then elect a single member of said class such that a single disclosed species is elected. The reply is also required to identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A: claims 1-22; Species B: claims 1-22.

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 1-22.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: as noted above the common technical feature in all groups is an a oxyalkylene containing HDAC inhibitor. This element cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because the element is shown in the prior art. Patnaik et al., disclose the use of pivaloyloxymethyl butyrate in a phase I clinical study for patient with advanced solid malignancies. The Species A and B represent numerous different classes of compounds as is disclosed, and thus represent numerous different structures, modes of action and effects.

Art Unit: 4133

Applicant is cautioned that an election of species via formulas I, II, or III compounds, or a chemotherapeutic agent that is not itself as elected specifically disclosed as filed may be considered New Matter.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention. Furthermore the examiner may find if necessary to further restrict the elected invention once depending on applicant's election and the state of the associated art.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
